

Statements about the fair

Our associations and buyers were positive in their assessment of electronica India. You will find plenty of convincing reasons for your company to participate and enjoy the benefits.

Association testimonials

“We have an association of small industries in the electronics segment and we have a pavilion at the show. We are associated with Messe München since many years and we have been participating in successive trade fairs organized by Messe München. electronica India is a key show in India promoting the manufacturers in the electronics industry.”

Mohan Das U, President, Consortium of Electronic Industries of Karnataka

“electronica India and productronica India are very important and successful shows because Messe Muenchen India has done a very good job in getting the industry together on one platform. It is very well organized and represents the majority of the industry players who are showcasing their best products and technologies. I think that this kind of event is very valuable for the community.”

Buyer testimonials

“We participated for the third time and found the event as a great platform which brings buyers and suppliers from the industry together. We learned about new technologies and upcoming trends in manufacturing and the services offered by various suppliers. At electronica India, we met new suppliers for PCB and electronics components and saw the latest manufacturing techniques and equipment.”

Ashvin Navadia, Co-founder & CEO, Allnyx Technologies LLP

“electronica India continues to be the best platform for the electronic manufacturing community. We believe in this value and took part for the last eight years. We were able to identify new sources for various commodities and could also develop a new supplier base for the products manufactured by Centum Electronics at the trade fair.”

CEO forum testimonials

“We attended the CEO Forum during the trade fairs and met the principal secretaries of each states face to face. It is certainly heartening to see the kind of progress the government and the states are initiating in terms of the ESDM policies. We could also understand how each state is promoting ESDM policies in their own state. We saw a significant progress in terms of mind-set, the willingness to progress and also how start-ups like ours can benefit from such a program.”

Basavaraj Nagaraju, Executive VP (Marketing & Strategy), Black Pepper Technologies

“Participation at the Invest India forum has been very satisfying and I must appreciate the efforts of the organizing team in conceptualizing such an event and a well-received trade fair.”

Guruprasad Mudlapur, Managing Director, Bosch Automotive Electronics
